Research questions

LPO 9951 | Fall 2015

Now that you've had a little more time think about your project as well as some more experience with your dataset, please submit a revised research question. Use my feedback on your first assignment if you feel stuck. If you think you got it right the first time, you can resubmit the same question, but please include a paragraph or two offering justification.

This is due by class on November 4.
